

Year 3 & 4 writing

Two-day training course

Year 3 and 4 are often a hinge point for learners as they become explorers of writing. It is critical that pupils expand their skills and at the same time embed a firm understanding of the techniques they are adding to their toolkit. A shaky lower Key Stage 2 causes immense problems for teachers in later years as they try to unpick pupil misconceptions, deal with partially learned techniques and inaccurate writing. Year 3 and 4 are also an important time for developing pupil confidence, which we know is essential for pupils to make good progress. We want to create talented, self-assured writers who can turn their hand to a range of writing tasks; pupils who love writing and are proud of their creations.

If you want to deliver imaginative and creative lessons that hook pupils into the joy of writing and at the same time create a solid foundation of skills, come and join us.

Evaluations from previous courses:

“Excellent balance of information / research and practical activities.”

“Brilliant. You continually inspire me to improve my CPD.”

“So many really good ideas that can be used in the classroom to address barriers to learning. I feel I have a better understanding of the direction I need to take. The course has been excellent.”

Covered across the course are a number of themes:

- Planning and sequencing lessons - developing units of work that build skills and embed techniques.
- Developing teacher knowledge of grammar and sentence level development in Year 3 & 4.
- Linking writing - writing and reading; writing in the wider curriculum; experience writing.
- Meeting the needs of a wide range of pupils: developing lessons which meet the needs of disadvantaged pupils; supporting struggling learners; tackling difficulties with imagination and content; addressing typical difficulties EAL pupils face; motivating young writers.
