

Curriculum development for senior leaders

Intent, implementation, impact: 2-day course

Decisions at senior leadership level need to be made regarding the rationale for the curriculum and developing a clear intent for how pupils will develop skills, knowledge and understanding throughout their time in school. The underpinning curriculum philosophy and the nature of the school should be entwined, shaping decision making at all levels. This is an opportunity to map out a vision for the future.

Vicky Crane, consultant & trainer

This course is for senior leaders - schools may also wish to invite a school governor

- current curriculum thinking and responding to the most recent Ofsted research publications;
- understanding the links between the curriculum and the quality of teaching and learning;
- the role of SLT in the three strands of intent, implementation and impact;
- thinking outside the box - consideration for innovative ways of delivering the curriculum;
- considering how the curriculum plays a pivotal role in 'the character of the school' and developing a shared intent that is right for your pupils and your school;
- how to work with subject and phase leaders to build a clear picture of what learning should look like in each key stage;
- ensuring the senior leadership team have an accurate handle on the current strengths and weaknesses in the curriculum;
- practicalities and the 'nitty gritty' - turning a school vision into a structure and plan that colleagues can implement;
- ensuring equality of access to the curriculum for different pupil groups; and
- financial implications of curriculum models, including staffing, resources and CPD.

Evaluations from previous courses:

"I just wanted to say a huge thank you for Friday – I am excited about getting my teeth into the curriculum and changing it for the better."

"I feel as if I have a much clearer view of what we need to do to begin our journey. Really clear delivery alongside time to discuss and plan."

"This has been so useful! The day was so well structured and led us through the thought process clearly. We now have an action plan and know what we want to achieve and how to do it."

"Excellent as ever and full of content that is useful. Provided a great starting point to redefine and develop our curriculum. Thank you!"
