

Did you have a really good understanding of what would be required in the examination? How did this impact on your result?

For example:

- Did you know what key topics would be covered in the examination?
- Did you have a list of what was to be included in the examination and how did you use it?
- Did you consider your confidence level for different topic areas? How did you prioritise what to revise?
- Did you know what type of questions you would be asked, e.g. multiple choice, short answer, essay questions. How did you use this information? How did this help / not help / could have been used more?

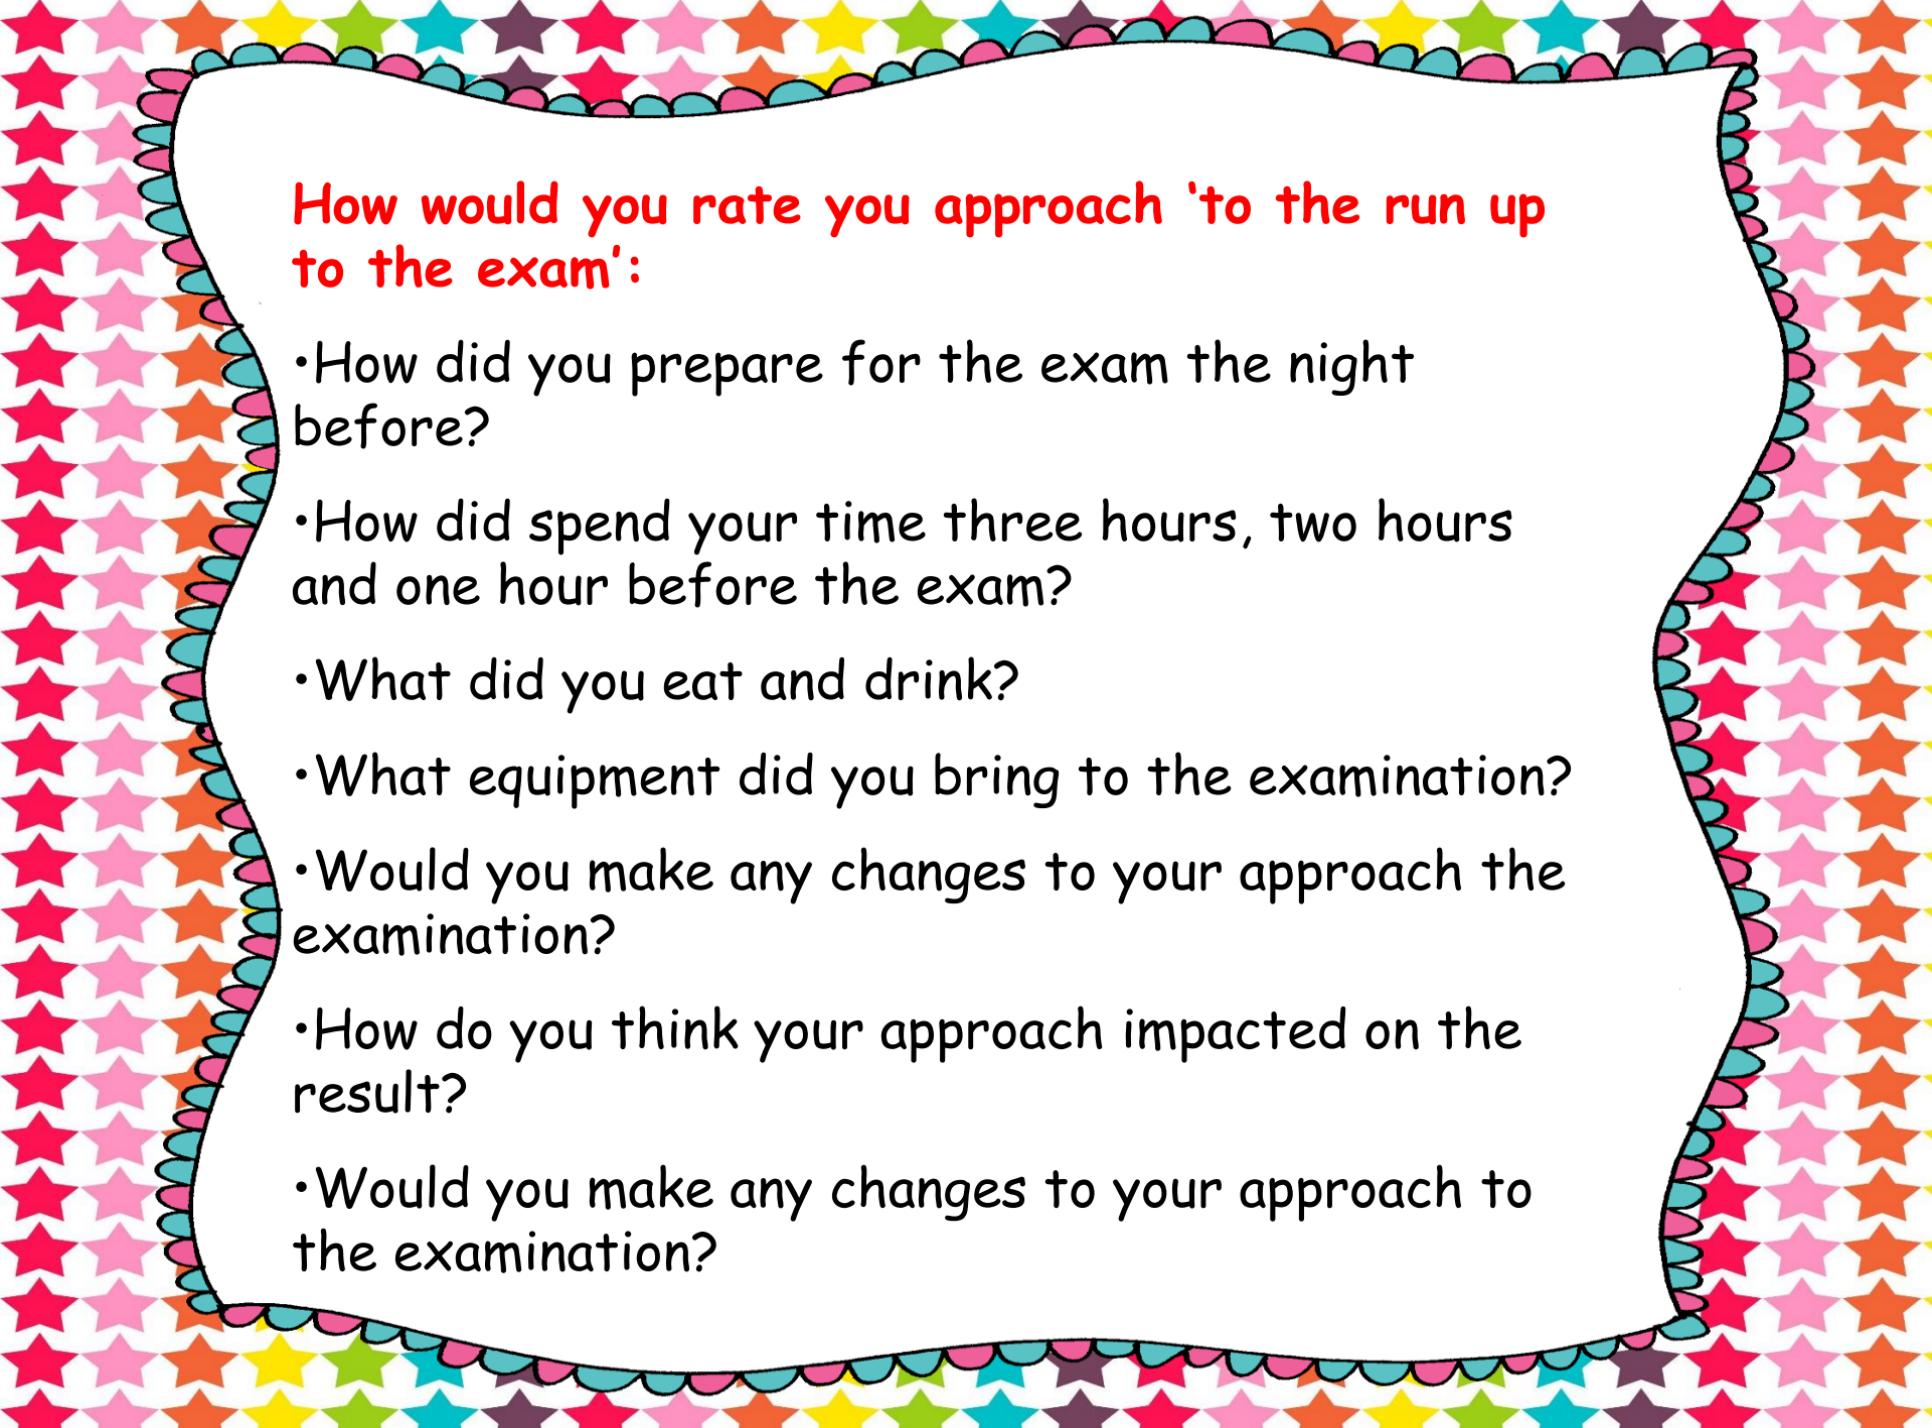

How would you rate 'your approach to revision':

- Which revision strategies did you use?
- How successful do you think these strategies were?
- Have you used these strategies before?
- Would you use these strategies again?
- Could you improve on the revision strategies used?
- Do you need to increase your knowledge and understanding of revision strategies?
- How did you approach your revision?
- Where did you revise? Did this work for you? Would you make any changes?
- How long did you spend revising? When did you revise? How long was each revision chunk? Did this work for you? Would you make any changes?

How would you rate your approach to 'dealing with difficulties that arose during revision':

- How did you deal with any aspects of the content that you did not understand when you were revising? Did this work? Would you use the same approach next time?
- What did you do when didn't understand some of the terminology? Did this work? Would you use the same approach next time?
- What did you do when you were feeling very under confident in preparing for the examination? Did this work? Would you use the same approach next time?
- What did you do if you found yourself struggling with how to actually revise? Did this work? Would you use the same approach next time?
- Would you make any changes to how you dealt with issues that arose during the revision period?

How would you rate your approach 'to the run up to the exam':

- How did you prepare for the exam the night before?
- How did you spend your time three hours, two hours and one hour before the exam?
- What did you eat and drink?
- What equipment did you bring to the examination?
- Would you make any changes to your approach to the examination?
- How do you think your approach impacted on the result?
- Would you make any changes to your approach to the examination?

How would you rate 'your thinking during the examination':

- What strategies did you use during the examination to help you maximise your marks?
 - Consider how you thought through and approached the following:
 - Understanding the question
 - Managing your time
 - Checking your answers
 - Making sure maximised the marks for a question
 - What to do when you think you don't know the answer
 - Making sure the examiner can understand your point
 - How you use any spare time at the end
 - Using diagrams
 - Answering essay questions
 - Would you make any changes to your 'thought processes' during the examination?
- How will you improve you 'during the examination' technique?
